TWENTY-ONE MILLIONS TO MARKET SOIL PRODUCTS

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SEATTLE, April 2.—For the purpose of standardizing, marketing and conserving the soil products of Washington and of ultimately extending the plan to every State in the Union, the National Producers' and Consumers' Alliance and the Producers' and Consumers' Alliance of Washington, were incorporated yesterday afternoon by John C. Slater, George A. Lee and others, with a combined capitalization of $21,500,000.

The scheme contemplates the erection of a salt water terminal, the construction of warehouses and cold-storage plants, the installation of evaporators, vinegar factories and by-products manufacturing plants throughout the fruit-growing districts, the promulgation of plans for marketing the products and a scheme whereby the organization will furnish to the growers such materials as they may need in the operation of their ranches and financial assistance when necessary. The plans and specifications for the warehouses and cold-storage plants are now being drawn by C. H. Babbs, the consulting and supervising architect.

The provisional executive board of the national organization are: John C. Slater, vice-president of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce; George A. Lee, former chairman of the State Public Service Commission; George W. Loggie of Bellingham, a millowner; E. W. Forrester, fruit grower of Yakima, and Ed Everett, trust officer of the Northern Bank and Trust Company. Two others probably will be added to the board within a few days.

The organization this summer will begin with the apple crop of Eastern Washington.

LIBBY, McNEIL & LIBBY Will Take the Fifteen Thousand to Twenty Thousand Cases of Heats Island Plant.

SEATTLE, April 2.—Announcement was made today of the signing of a contract under the terms of which Libby, McNeil & Libby will purchase the entire 1914 output of the Heats Island plant of the Swift-Arthur-Crosby Cannery Company at the season's opening price. The plant's output is estimated at 15,000 to 20,000 cases of salmon.

The cannery company also announced that Capt. George Morgan, former pilot of the steamship Admiral Sampson of the Admiral line, has purchased one-half of H. F. Swift's holdings in the company. Later in the season he will take an active part in the operation of the Heats Island plant, which ranks as one of the best equipped of the smaller Southeastern Alaska canneries. Besides Swift and Morgan, the stockholders are Capt. Harry W. Crosby of the Washington Tug and Barge Company, and L. F. Arthur.

BUT OURS HAVE SMALLER FEET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 2.—Chicago housewives are more economical in their cooking and use of foods than the women in any of the large cities of the country, according to a report made today by experts employed by the City Waste Commission.

The death of Paul Heyse recalls the opposition that was made prior to 1895 to the erection of a memorial monument to Heinrich Heine, the famous German poet. The memorial was unveiled July 8, 1899, and stands at the junction of the Concourse with Meit avenue, and East 181st street, New York.

The idea of fashioning this monument was originally suggested by the late Empress Elizabeth of Austria, who was a great admirer of the poet Heine. It was the intention to erect the monument at Düsseldorf, the poet's birthplace, but, owing to the strong opposition of many influential persons (Paul Heyse being among the leaders), who could not overlook the fact that Heine was an agnostic, this intention had to be abandoned.

Next it was proposed to place the monument in Mayence, but there similar objections were raised, and after much or less agitation in favor of other localities in Germany, the committee in charge of the work decided to offer it to America. Similar objections were made by German-Americans, but he monument was finally accepted.

Heine as a writer scourged Germany with whips of scorpions and assailed the German, Austria by the satirist, and the hatred of the Christians, reinforced by the dislike of a man aroused who spoke far from indistinctly in favor of the socialists, were powerful enough to put a veto on a monument to Heine within the limits of the empire. The murdered Empress of Austria, with all her influence as a German princess and Queen of Prussia, was not able to break the obstinate refusal of Düsseldorf, Hamburg and Frankfurt to erect a memorial of Heine erected in cities once the home of the poet.

WINCHESTER (Ky.) April 2.—"Doc" Smith, one of the men accused of having fired the shots which killed Edward Callahan, former Sheriff of Breathitt county, went on the witness stand today at the trial of Tom Davidson, charged with complicity in the murder, and confessed to having assisted in the killing of Callahan. He testified that he, with Jim Deaton and Andrew Jackson, went to Steep Hill, which overlooks Callahan's store at Crockettville, and concealed themselves in the underbrush. They cut several branches of trees and stuck them in the ground as resting places for their rifles. When Callahan appeared at a window of his store the three fired. It is not known whose bullet struck Callahan, but two hit him.

One of the attorneys asked Smith if he was a good shot and Smith replied that he had never been beaten. Smith testified that Davidson said: "We must kill Callahan." Deaton said he and Bob Deaton left Jackson with the party which intended to kill Callahan, but that they themselves went to shoot Anne White, a feud enemy who was expected to come along the road near Callahan's store. Deaton swore he heard the murder of Callahan discussed when the alleged gunmen gathered at Fletcher Deaton's home in Jackson to prepare an alibi.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MUNICH (Bavaria) April 2.—Paul Johann Ludwig von Heyse, German poet and novelist, died here today in his eighty-fifth year. He was awarded the Nobel prize for literature in 1910.

The death of Paul Heyse recalls the opposition that was made prior to 1895 to the erection of a memorial monument to Heinrich Heine, the famous German poet. The memorial was unveiled July 8, 1899, and stands at the junction of the Concourse with Meit avenue, and East 181st street, New York.

I suffered from female trouble so I could not stand on my feet and I felt like millions of needles were pricking me all over. At last my doctor told me that all that would save me was an operation, but this I refused. I told my husband to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I would try it before I would submit to any operation. He did so and I improved right along. I am now doing all my work and feeling fine.

"I hope other suffering women will try your Compound. I will recommend it to all I know."—Mrs. DANIEL D. R. DAVIS, 110 Franklin St., Logansport, Ind.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

MURDERS CLEARED UP.

Chicago Man Confesses to Have Killed Woman—Fear of Death Writings Statement from Him.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, April 2.—Doubt concerning the slayers in two alleged double murders was removed today—in one instance by the confession of a man and in the other by the testimony at a coroner's inquest.

Seized with a coughing spell and fearing he was going to die, Peter Weller, at the County Hospital suffering from tuberculosis, confessed that he had shot and killed Mrs. Catherine Morris, a widow of a week, and her two children, in their homes, on March 20.

A coroner's jury held Mrs. Helga Lindstrom to the grand jury, charged with the murder of her two children, Mabel, 4 years old, and Linda, 2 years old, on March 19. A policeman testified Mrs. Lindstrom confessed that she turned on the gas in her home because she became despondent after a family quarrel.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Get License in Chicago.

Fred H. Hart, 31, of Louisville and Jennie H. Kerber, 31, of Los Angeles were licensed to marry yesterday in Chicago.

For Young Naturalists.

The Lorquin Natural History Club boys will meet this evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Harold Strawn, No. 2819 Pasadena avenue. All young naturalists are invited.

Bible Class Meeting.

The Hadden-Tucker Union Bible classes will meet at Union Rescue Mission Hall, No. 145 North Main street, this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. W. Lewis Tucker will lecture upon "The Roman Letter."

Stanford Band Here.

The Stanford University Band will entertain the students of the Los Angeles High School this morning in the assembly hall of the school. The concert of this organization is an annual event of much interest to the students of the institution.

Million Club Meeting.

Frank G. Tyrrell will deliver an address on the subject, "Annexation and Consolidation," at the regular weekly meeting of the Million Club at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the club hall in the Blenheim building. The general public is invited.

For the Power Bonds.

Invitations will be sent out today by the Chamber of Commerce asking the presidents of the city's civic organizations to appoint committees of five members each to meet with the chamber's directors at 10 o'clock Monday morning to arrange for a campaign favoring the power bonds.

Accident Caused Death.

A verdict declaring that death was caused by accident was returned yesterday afternoon, after an inquest held over the remains of Patrolman James F. Cronin, who was struck and killed by a Long Beach car Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of Central and Slauson avenues. The body is at Pierce Brothers' parlors, High School Hall.

A general rally of the 2000 students of the Los Angeles High School was held yesterday morning to determine whether the time-honored "spirit of the hill" is going into decline. Those present asserted that it is not, judging from the volume of sound produced by the hilltop rosters. Among the speakers were Messrs. Beach, Adler, Lincoln, Dell, Thompson, Siebert, Pierce and Jameson.

To Make Children Happy.

Members of the Automobile Club of Southern California who wish to donate their machines to make many little children happy on the occasion of the taking of motion pictures at Clifton-by-the-Sea are requested by the officials of the club to report at the headquarters of the Child Welfare Committee. Secretary Mitchell of the club has sent the request to the 6000 members-at-large throughout Southern California.

Capt. H. Z. Osborne will represent the Chamber of Commerce and the Arizona and California River Regulation Commission at the reclamation conference in Phoenix, Ariz., last night. Secretary of the Interior Lane is to preside at the conference, which will be attended by many representatives from the department and the great water projects.

The 1914 meeting will be held at the Hotel El Comodoro, 17 and 18. We have had 1800 members by the date of the next meeting.

In the list of members that of N. T. Darlington is the only one appearing from Los Angeles, and the object of the club is to secure more members. The desire of the association is declared to be the improvement of all roads leading from every town and community in the three States and connecting them with the State highways.

Every member enrolled becomes an advocate of good roads. It is the purpose of this association to build up a membership, strong and powerful, to be able to demand from those in authority, county, State or Federal, enactments of laws which will have the greatest good to the greatest number.

Victory Valley Meeting Tonight.

A meeting of people interested in the Victory Valley reclamation project will be held this evening at No. 609 South Spring street. The object of the meeting is to indorse the resolutions passed by the Victory Valley Chamber of Commerce, to be presented at the Denver reclamation convention on next Thursday, by John D. Reavis, delegate from the valley.

Ranchman Killed.

Car No. 224 of the Whittier line of the Pacific Electric, outbound, yesterday afternoon struck and killed an unidentified ranchman, supposed to be of French birth, while approaching Kings Station. The car was in charge of Conductor Devoe and Motorcar Backus. Backus says the man was afoot on the tracks and seemed confused when a signal was given. He was struck by the front of the car and was struck before the brakes could be applied.

A Fair Field.

Frank G. Tyrrell will deliver an address on the subject, "Annexation and Consolidation," at the regular weekly meeting of the Million Club at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the club hall in the Blenheim building. The general public is invited.

For the Power Bonds.

Invitations will be sent out today by the Chamber of Commerce asking the presidents of the city's civic organizations to appoint committees of five members each to meet with the chamber's directors at 10 o'clock Monday morning to arrange for a campaign favoring the power bonds.

Every member enrolled becomes an advocate of good roads. It is the purpose of this association to build up a membership, strong and powerful, to be able to demand from those in authority, county, State or Federal, enactments of laws which will have the greatest good to the greatest number.

The 1914 meeting will be held at the Hotel El Comodoro, 17 and 18. We have had 1800 members by the date of the next meeting.

In the list of members that of N. T. Darlington is the only one appearing from Los Angeles, and the object of the club is to secure more members. The desire of the association is declared to be the improvement of all roads leading from every town and community in the three States and connecting them with the State highways.

Well, which are you going to choose any way? You can't have both. The problem is a good deal like buying a suit. If you have a given amount of money to spend, you can either get a certain amount of extreme style or a certain amount of extreme quality in the cloth. But it's pretty hard to get the limit in both.

The Brauer suit-to-order special at $20 comes about as close to giving you the absolute limit in both quality and style as you can get.

How to Avoid those Pains and Dizziness Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. This remedy softens the muscles, enables them to expand without strain and enables women to go through the ordeal without pain, nausea, morning sickness or other dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better. For in Mother's Friend they have found how easy it is to banish all those distressing symptoms.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some groaning mother to whom a word in time abates. Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing.

This sold by all drug stores, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only. Write today to the Randolph Regulator, 227 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book to street mothers.

FIRST USE OF RESINOL STOPS TERRIBLE ITCH

When Other Treatments Gave No Relief. Suffered 5 Years, But Resinol Cured in a Week.

Jan. 27, 1914: "I suffered over eight years with eczema. It started in one little place and kept spreading until it covered my hands. My hands looked like they had been burned by fire and peeled off in large pieces until they were only raw, bleeding skin. It was so terrible that I could not sleep at night. I tried all sorts of remedies, but nothing gave me any relief until I tried Resinol. I used it for one week and after the first application my hands never itched or burned again. I want every sufferer from eczema to know that they can find a cure in Resinol." (Signed) Miss Ethel Scott, Milledale, Ga.

Physicians have prescribed Resinol for treatment of eczema, skin troubles, pimples, dandruff, sores, ulcers, burns, wounds, and piles. Every drug store carries Resinol. Write for Resinol Soap, but for trial size, free, write to Dept. 2-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Do not be deceived by imitations.

NOT EVEN FIRE PHASES
THIS FIGHTING EDITOR.

Col. Blethen, whose Newspaper and Strong Personality Are Thrown Into the Battle Against Lawless Labor-Union Leaders, Whose Life Has Been Threatened Innumerable Times, Visiting in Los Angeles.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

COL. ALDEN J. BLETHEN, editor-in-chief of the Seattle Times, the leading newspaper of that city, is at the Lathrop Hotel for a few days, en route to New York via Seattle and the national capital, to attend the annual meeting of the Associated Press, to be held in that city the third week of this month.

Col. Blethen is famous for having been a "fighting editor" all his life, and now, in his sixty-eighth year, he is as rugged and erect—his fine, square face framed in the glory of his white hair.

Col. Blethen has been victor in a free coinage of gold and silver, and the next he ameliorates all the fear-some effect of his learned exposition by smiling indulgently when someone in the room breaks into his discourse to ask him a frivolous question.

Up in Seattle they tell you about the paper which pays its employees when they are ill, and pensions them when they are old, and is famous for this and for the devotion of its people to its standard. "And that," says the colonel, "is because we are like one big family."

The newspaper fraternity of the Seattle Times relate affectionately the story of how the editor-in-chief has made it a policy of that publication editorial, not the news, did the business, in any big movement. But as progress has been made in enlarging and improving the methods of gathering and distributing the news, and as newspapers become cheap, the people are becoming their own editors. A man reads all he can on every subject in which he is interested, and he edits and interprets it himself as he goes along.

"The newspaper has become the schoolmaster of the world. Everybody knows it. The newspaper is doing more than the school and pulpit put together, to educate the people."

Asked as to the future of newspapers, Col. Blethen declared the free newspaper was a possibility of the future. Editors are already discussing the subject. It would be a tremendously expensive experiment. A paper like the Los Angeles Times probably loses $200,000 a year in its circulation. That is, the paper costs that to publish over and above returns from circulation.

"Newspaper opportunities in the West are vast. We grow newspaper men out here, where their hands are free, where they may develop. The West is a good place to begin. But the youngster who wants to go into the reporting end of it should first ask himself if he has the 'nose for news.' Does he find himself looking always toward the future? And no back at what Jim Blaine said thirty years ago, but forward to what Jim Mahoney is going to do in Congress next term?"

You know we make our own cakes—they are certainly delicious. Order one for tomorrow.

man who accomplished more than the standard record for the publisher received the other half. Now, however, no man dares to do that under the hour or day system of payment. So if he should do so he would at first receive a hint to quit the excess of product—and then if he continues to produce he would probably find himself in the hospital with a broken head as a penalty for disobedience.

Today there are scores of printers who are working for the law in operation most actively during the last ten years, but I never saw it prohibit the sale of liquor in the large villages and cities of that State.

"One of the evil effects of State prohibition lies in the fact that what is absolutely legal and protected by law officers on one side of an imaginary line, is criminal on the other side, and no line of argument can possibly be produced that will teach an American citizen that what is absolutely right and legal under the laws of Nebraska, for example, is vicious and criminal under the laws of Kansas.

"Therefore I say: If we are to have prohibition as related to the manufacture and use of liquor let it be of a national character, so that what is legal and right in the State of New York will be legal and right in California—and what is criminal and wrong from every legal standpoint, shall be criminal in Minnesota as well as Maine and Iowa."

men were Mexicans, and many of the others typical "bummers."

The attorneys representing the men yesterday afternoon in court were Charles O. Morgan, H. H. Roser and A. H. Holston.

Morgan regularly entered pleas of "not guilty" and demanded jury trials. His request that the men be allowed to go on their own recognizance was denied and bail fixed at $100 in each case.

The court asked if Morgan proposed to go through the form of jury trial with each case if a conviction were secured in the first few.

"We got no concessions at today's conference and we will not give any," Morgan answered.

McKeeby stated in reply that he had offered to let all defendants go on their own recognizance, with the exception of Frank Kelly, R. L. Buck and John Tanese, the leaders.

On his request, these cases were set at the head of the calendar, as follows: Kelly for Monday at 2 p.m., Buck for Monday at 2 p.m., and Tanese for April 13 at 10 a.m.

PACKED WITH REDS.
Yesterday's fruitless conference in Chief Sebastian's office was held at the request of Ireland, and was heavily packed with reds, including Councilman Wheeler, Stanley Wilson, representatives of the Young People's Socialist League, Morgan and Rose.

Ireland made the statement that a man had offered the army 100 jobs at $1.50 a day. The scale usually paid was $2.50, he said, and for this reason he was advised the hobos to turn down the jobs.

FIVE SUSPENDED.
W. J. Danford, disbarred attorney, accused of failing to produce the books of the Ising Ore-Treatment Company on demand of stockholders was fined $30 by Police Judge Williams yesterday. The court suspended the sentence on the representation of the plaintiffs that their papers had been secured. They have secured access to the books, to court order, and made notations of the data they desired. The books are now to be accessible to all stockholders.

to protect his employees under all circumstances.

The colonel sometimes uses this phrase: "There are 252 employees upon the pay roll of the Times who work within the walls of the building exclusively—and few of them resign, and up to date but four have died. This is because when they are ill their pay is continued and their doctors' bills liquidated; and when they become superannuated they are pensioned. Add this fact to the other fact, that the highest wages are paid by the Seattle Times, and you have the secret of the saying, that the employees of the Times constitute one great family."

Gen. Otis and Col. Blethen are old-time friends with affiliated views and somewhat parallel careers, each has made a fight against the throttling influences of lawless labor leaders, each has felt the murderous influence of the barbaric hand of anarchy in the destruction of life and property under his protection. Each has been many times threatened with death. Each, last but not least, has won many a signal victory for the citizens of his municipality.

SET ON FIRE.
The partial destruction of the Seattle Times building, and a very large part of its plant, by the hand of incendiaries on the 13th of February, 1912, was accomplished by the torch and fortunately without the loss of life, while the destruction of the Los Angeles Times, involving both building and plant, was accomplished by dynamite, but that disaster involved the lives of more than a score of men and the injury of a most serious character to another score.

Still the motive that destroyed both properties was the same and practically the same. The motive was the desire to have the editor of the Los Angeles Times removed from the stand-

Col. Blethen's views on newspaperdom in general are most interesting. The field of the magazine is widening," he says. Newspapers with their wide news-gathering service are sticking to the news, and the editorial have seen a mighty change in editorial and news relations in the last twenty-five years.

OLD AND NEW.
"Hardly any of the old editors are left, and hardly any new ones are making their appearance. From the death of Greeley down to the present time, we are losing all the great editorial writers. Gen. Otis of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and Ed. Lippincott of the Brooklyn Eagle are practically all that are left of the great editorial writers of the last half-century.

DESCRIBING THE PEST.
 Some jokesmith, unfortunately lost to fame, has hammered out this: A demagogue is a fellow who rocks the boat and persuades everybody that there is a great storm at sea.

SEEKING DAYLIGHT.
 Where many people get mixed in a failure to grasp the fact that there is no problem of the many, but only of the one, and that one themselves. You don't have to embrace every opportunity or every girl, but only the right one.

PROFESSIONAL SCANDAL-MONGER.
 That small human being parading under the name of Lincoln Steffens seems to be a digester of much. Having exhausted all modern political scandal, he has tried to create a sensation by calling New England the most corrupt section of the United States. If he really wants to expose a great political evil, then Mr. Steffens should write an autobiography.

PLEADING GUILTY.
 Oakland baseball writers admit that their town has a good team. They do it boldly and without shame. One of them goes so far as to unashamedly confess that it is a great team and a pennant winner. We know a man doing big time under the name of Hogan and another serving under his true name of Dillon who will dispute the pennant part of the Oakland claim.

BURGLES AND CHURCH VAULTS.
 To use a church as a storehouse for burglars' plunder is an advance in the details of the profession of thievery that has been inaugurated by some enterprising youths of Los Angeles. Diligent sextons, by cleaning out the church vaults every Saturday, may collect enough rewards for the return of stolen property to materially increase the fund in aid of the propagation of the heathen in foreign lands.

BOLESHING WORK IN PRISONS.
 The bill passed by the House of Representatives to bar the shipment of convict-made goods in interstate commerce and inflicting $5000 fine and two years' imprisonment on any person convicted of violating the law was strongly urged by representatives of the I.W.W. Prison sentences will, if the bill becomes a law, be short of their terms to the jobless ones. The State is not allowed to sell the goods made by convicts. It will close the prison workshops, and if the workshops are closed there will be nothing for convicts to do, and with nothing to do and three meals a day the soldiers of Coxe's army will seek rather than a sojourn in the penitentiary.

MAKING A SUCCESS.
 The first element of making a success is to find congenial work, and it is a selfish principle, if used intelligently, since no man objects to doing that which he likes to do. It is a mistake to believe that business men are primarily out for the money, as much of a mistake as to believe that Edison goes three days at a stretch without sleep for money. The men who have made a success of railroad have liked their work; the men who come up from salesmen at the counter of a department store to be general managers have liked their work; the men in all departments of industry who have come to the top have liked the work. If they had not liked it they would have grumbled and loafed and joined with other failures in life who contend that "property is robbery."

A LUCKY KID.
 The baby of today has a chance the rest of us never had. Of course he is not so much coddled by non-eugenic grandmothers and is not allowed to eat unhygienic sweets; he has to put up with sterilized kisses and is supposed to get mighty few of those, but life has its compensations for him. The photograph is one of them. At the age of three months he is an authority on classic music and is ready to start a rough house if his afternoon nap is not induced by Jacobowsky's great lullaby from "Terminale." He knows the voice of Caruso and Scotti from that of his dad, and at six months he is ready to discuss the three voices of Bach or the second movement of Beethoven. It is mighty fine to grow up with melody for the background of life and with harmony for its undertone.

HEARING THE WORST.
 If you will believe us, we deeply regret the constant necessity of publishing so much that is adverse about persons and objects. Something is always happening to somebody, but the world churns around in such a funny way that it is not the butter that comes to the top. Accident and tragedy are forever breaking into print. They explode with such a noise that everybody is compelled to hear them. People bring their quarrels to the Courthouse, their hurts and bruises to the Receiving Hospital and their jags and brawls to the City Jail. Meanwhile, for every disaster a hundred lovely occurrences entirely escape observation. They do not come up for adjustment, because they are already just and glad. They are all around us, but they are private and fewer, and the reporter of good intentions cannot get at them. We are not unwilling to print all of the news just as it happens, good or bad, but we like to remember that the unlucky incident is, after all, only one in a thousand and that one remaining nine hundred and ninety-nine are exceedingly happy.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THE HARBOR.
 Los Angeles is now at the climax of a struggle for more than thirty years for a great free harbor. The fight has been weary and long, but the harbor is open to the commerce of the world and the equipment for handling the traffic that is to swell the volume of business is ready for the handling of tonnage.

The future looms with promise that here will be one of the greatest ports of the world, endowed as it is with the advantage of location and backed by the indomitable civic courage that in ten years has transformed a mud flat into a pulsating mart where immense structures have been reared and where the city boasts the finest concrete wharf in the whole world.

In 1871 the United States began to improve what was then known as Wilmington Harbor by jetties between Battlesnake Island and Dead Man's Island. The work went along slowly until in the eighties, when the question of a breakwater arose. The fight for the free harbor, concluded after years of struggle, with the people uppermost, is well-known history. The breakwater was built and other work was prosecuted with vigor until there came the question for the development of the harbor to meet the enlarged conditions growing out of the expected commerce of the Panama Canal.

With the annexation of San Pedro the city obligated itself to spend $10,000,000 in the development of the harbor between 1909 and 1919, a million a year. Half of that has been spent in half of the time, and when the occasion demands, the same spirit that was behind the earlier bond issues will dominate the coming ones and the people's purse will be kept.

Today there is $2,500,000 in the treasury raised by bonds voted last year. The present work will go on, the expansion will be taken care of to meet the growing volume of traffic.

The harbor never will be completed. There is no such thing as completion of the harbor, for, as the facilities are demanded by the expanding volume of business, they will be added to the harbor's assets. Wharves, warehouses and terminals will be built as dredging and reclamation work goes on to handle the tremendous commerce that is to come from the eastern seaboard and from foreign ports. Six steamship lines will send their vessels through the canal, and new channels of trade must be adjusted.

There may be no immediate great rush of world commerce through the canal, as the great companies are likely to wait developments and watch results. A readjustment of the common channels of sea trade will eventually come, and the port of Los Angeles, the only important seaport near the canal on the Pacific side, will reap a wonderful benefit beyond all doubt.

All of that being true and the harbor being now in readiness for business, the opportunity for further preparation is at hand. The programme for handling freight, the cost of tonnage, the general traffic plan and many other important features vital to the administration of the harbor have not yet been agreed upon.

With the harbor open for business and the business about to be transacted, the facility with which business could be handled would be far greater if there were at present a general scheme of administration under which traffic arrangements could be made between the city and the various utilities using the harbor and its properties.

Here is a $50,000,000 utility within the system of operation. An expert rate man should have been at work for months; a traffic director should have been named long ago to interest the commerce of the world in this port. More railroads, more steamship lines are needed to be put in touch with the harbor, and traffic rates, the one big essential, should have been established long ago.

Some of these needs are made self-evident by a splendid book, "The Port of Los Angeles," issued by the Harbor Commission. It is the work of Clarence Matson, secretary of the commission. This book tells of the work at the harbor and its glorious opportunities. It will go out to foreign steamship lines, to consular agents, to great commercial houses and to shippers generally over the United States. The book is a valuable volume of live information on an alluring subject.

Mr. Matson, well informed upon the advantages and needs of the harbor, has urged for nearly a year that the city name a traffic manager who may lay the foundation for the business system by which the harbor shall be conducted. It seems that this is the harbor's greatest need at present. The expert work that is necessary to start the system of books should have been done long ago.

But in the light of the larger successes that have been achieved expeditiously and judiciously in the making of the harbor there is every reason to believe that this need will be attended to with dispatch, and that the whole machinery of the port will be complete and ready for whatever may come when the canal is open to the commerce of the seas.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.
 In 1864 the Democratic party, in national convention assembled, declared that "after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war the public welfare demands that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities with a view to the ultimate convention of the States," etc.

If McClellan had been elected the Union would have been dissolved.

In 1868 the Democratic party declared that "the national debt should be paid, not in coin, but in the irredeemable currency of the United States."

If Seymour had been elected the national debt—which then amounted to about $2,000,000,000—would have been paid (1) with irredeemable currency. There was then in circulation less than $400,000,000 of national currency which sold for about 60 cents on the dollar in gold.

With this $400,000,000 swollen to $2,000,000,000 our national currency would have been worth about as much as was the Confederate currency after Appomattox, the value of which was stated by a Democratic politician who came to California from Richmond after the war. He said that the only time he ever gambled was subsequent to Lee's surrender. He had $10,000 in Confederate money. He sought a faro game, bet his pile on the jack, won the bet and with the $20,000 he bought a pair of boots.

In 1872 there was no Democratic platform. The Democrats, in order to capture the Federal offices, tried the experiment of running Horace Greeley—a high protectionist—on a Republican platform. The mixture did not work.

He Waded In Too Deep.

In 1876 the Democrats, like the historic dog and sow, returned to their apocryphal dog and sow. They returned with fierce and enthusiastic joy. They went after the doctrine of a protective tariff hellbait.

In 1880 if Hancock had been elected the Democrats would, if they had fulfilled the pledges of their platform, have enacted a tariff for revenue only and protected the laboring man alike against the cornorant and the commune. Who the cornorant was is not made clear in the platform. In 1884 the Democrats declared that "the Republican party, during its long, its stolen, and its bought tenures of power, has steadily decayed in moral character and political capacity."

Mr. Cleveland was elected, but Congress remained Republican, and the Democrats were unable to do the things they had promised in their platform to do. In 1888 the usual distaste against Republican administration of government was omitted, necessarily, because a Democrat had been in the White House, but the tariff-revenue-only dose was administered ad libitum, ad nauseam, ad infinitum, all without avail, for Harrison was elected.

In 1892, after demanding that the southern chivalry should be unmoored in driving colored men away from the polls, the Democrats denounced Republican protection as "a fraud and a robbery of the great majority of the American people."

The personal unpopularity of Harrison was a governing factor in this contest, and Grover Cleveland was elected over him by a small majority.

The result was that, after thirty-two years of effort to kill protection, the Democrats at last succeeded in establishing a tariff for revenue only. The consequences were disastrous to the industrial interests of the country.

In 1896 the Democrats sang very solemn on the tariff question. They said, "Until the money question is settled we are opposed to any agitation for further changes in our tariff laws except such as are necessary to meet the deficit in revenue." The "piece de resistance" of the Democrats that year was free coinage of silver with Billy Bryan waving his borrowed cross of gold for a guerdon.

The Republicans fought for a continuation of protection and for the gold standard in 1896 and won. The same fight with the same result was made in 1900. In 1904 and 1908 the Democrats kicked poor old 16 to 1 out of their local and national conventions, but added by "tariff for revenue only" and added "giving up the Philippines" to their declaration of principles.

The consequences of the Democratic victory of 1912, achieved by Roosevelt's treachery, have not all been suffered. The result of the election of Congressmen next November may mitigate them.

THE WOMAN'S MINIMUM WAGE LAW.
 Women of California, The Times is your friend; much more your friend than the demagogues who, in order to make a point and gain office, advise you to your own injury; very much more your friend than the half-reasoners and quarter-thinkers who, misled by overappreciation of their own brain power, urge you to contend for a minimum wage law for women—a course which they doubtless believe would result to your advantage, but which would surely lessen your opportunities of obtaining work and would not increase your pay.

Whatever may be the case elsewhere, it is certainly true that in California every woman who knows how to do anything that anybody wants done can find employment at a living wage. The more competent she is

ARE WE PAGANS?

BY KATHERINE THOMPSON VON BLON.

The world today is in the throes of a great spiritual birth. Everything presages it. The fact that the writers of the day expatiate and the orators descend upon the gross materiality of the age is one of the surest proofs of a greater spirituality to come. Isn't one stage of evolution, or one phase of civilization, followed almost invariably by its absolute opposite? The stagnation of one force, while another is allowed to develop, is almost sure to cause a great revulsion of feeling. While the superficial thinker sees in all this materialism only a reversion to grosser things, the philosophers are already finding in it a stepping-stone to a larger spiritual life. Already there is a groping, a reaching out for the higher, finer things of life.

Despite the fact that the college and broader education is tending toward agnosticism, still there is evident a strong desire, in fact it almost amounts to a burning passion, for an insight into the white light of a higher Christianity.

The general trend of today's religious fervor and energy seems to turn inward. Introspection is far commoner than it was twenty-five years ago, for all the fact that materiality rules the world, and the age is set down to be one in which the man of action, and not the thinker or philosopher, is the presiding genius. No longer are we content to allow others to do our thinking for us. In past generations the churchmen have set down spiritual laws and rules for the guidance of their followers. While the followers sought material freedom, they did not seek to burst the bonds of church convention. With the larger freedom of race thought and the great vista of power over material resources, which is the prerogative of the modern, has come a desire for freedom of spiritual thought. Individuals not satisfied with the regulations which the church sets down and not satisfied with an adherence only to the letter of the law subject themselves to rigorous self-examination, even soul-searchings. All this exploration after inner light will undoubtedly bring about a spiritual uplift.

Ferrero huris the charge of paganism at us. He sees in the modern a lack of perception of things moral, and argues from this and from a love of the externals (in evidence itself upon every hand) that we are steadily moving onward toward paganism.

Is loving and even worshipping the beautiful in life paganism, I for one am strongly for it. Surely God's hand created the beauty in the world, hence isn't it in reality devotion to the All-powerful One which presses upon us when we fall in adoration before the lovely manifestations of life? Surely the exquisite rose, bearing the soft radiance of the dawn upon its dewy petals and exuding its delicate perfume abroad, is a worthy messenger of divinity. No ill can spring from the joy which wells up in the human heart at sight of this glorious creation. And if we search with the truly discerning eye we shall inevitably find beauty even in the most unpromising soil. But yesterday I plucked a rose, whose outer petals were destroyed and marred. My fingers unconsciously pulled aside the inner petals and there within disclosed was a radiance pure, fresh, uncontaminated. A golden glow suffused the center; a rosy hue of exquisite transparency met my delighted eyes.

Here was perfection beneath the shattered ruins of a rose! And we may bring to light the beauty in every human being if we but search. Untold wealth in joy and happiness awaits him who explores beneath the surface of things, ransacking for the bit of gold, the pearl of great price.

Just at present personality is the shrine at which the world worships. If not reverently, at least with unusual ardor. But what indeed is personality but the flicker of the soul light which we catch now and then? Talent, beauty, personal magnetism, genius—what is it but the divine fire within? Are not these qualities paramount? If we are drawn toward these qualities, which are surely nothing less than a manifestation, a flowering of the inner soul, what a tribute to the Creator!

Who can gainsay that we are living in the midst of the greatest civilization achieved by man, and yet, at that, it leaves much to be desired. In our great thirst for power, for the conquest of all material things, have we perhaps missed a higher goal? Do we actually endeavor to bring the truest, finest things of the art, of the literature of the generations past into our own modern life? Do we mold the nobility of the past into being, with the light of our modern intelligence as the heaven? Rather drunk with the sheer glory of our conquest over all nature, we are too well satisfied with the present conditions and with our part in this momentous age.

What if we are inclined to exaggerate our importance in the scheme of things? Perhaps, after all, we are right, for in the sight of God all men are equal.

IT'S MOSTLY AIR.
 Strength of mind and body comes from health, and health from right living, and right living, in turn, is merely living in harmony with nature.

The prime factors or principal health rules are: Nourish the body, do not overfeed it. This means eat plain fare and taboo alcohol.

"In most cases, however, even a weak body can be made strong by right living. The lesson is this: Live according to the laws of nature and you will keep well and strong."

What are the laws of nature? We won't burden the busy reader with a long list of don'ts, but to be brief and to the point: First, breathe right, take deep breaths through the nose and down to the lowest part of the lungs.

Throw wide open the windows in your room on arising; of course, your windows are partly open all night, and take deep, full breaths till you feel a healthy tingle all over.

Few people use all their lung cells, and although air is the most valuable and yet the cheapest thing in the world, we value it least.

We can live for days without water, food or shelter, but not for three minutes can we do without air.

The more air we breathe the more completely we purify the blood, which is the wellspring of life.

The man who observes these simple rules of health will work better, sleep better and have greater earning capacity.

We must take deep, long breaths of food pure early morning air, and cleanse the body daily, inside and out.

Purify the mind by clean thoughts, also the body by a liberal application of soap and water.

STRAIGHT RUN ON GOOD ROADS

Write Boothe, Booster, for Norton, Obstructionist.

Auto Demand for Supervisor the Popular Demand.

His District Sick of Earle, Strong for Earle.

Earle Y. Boothe, a leading automobile dealer, and one of the most capable and popular young business men of Los Angeles, has entered the recall election contest in the Second Supervisorial District against Supervisor R. H. Norton, Earle's obstructive.

Boothe has the enthusiastic support of many influential business and professional men, as well as hundreds of working people, who admire his integrity and special fitness for the job. He is running on a platform that strikes a popular note—that of good roads, good county government and making good.

Boothe has resided in the Second District ever since his arrival in this city twenty-two years ago. Since he entered the business field ten years ago he has been active in the business, progressive and civic life of the city. He has worked his way up from a clerk to a position of prominence in the business world.

Boothe is a Republican in national politics, but votes for the best-fitted man for the job for local offices. He does not pose as a great reformer or a party holler. He is just a good fellow with common-sense, a strong sense of duty and a desire to do the right thing. If elected he will be a man of action, and his record of citizenship will be a record of more, not less.

He studied at the University of Stanford and the University of California. After leaving college he worked for some time in the government service, and then engaged in the drug business.

Boothe is secretary of the Western Automobile Association, chairman of the Automobile Association of the Los Angeles Dealers Association. He is a member of the Los Angeles Automobile Club, the San Gabriel and Los Angeles Country clubs. He is also active in the Automobile Club of California.

Boothe's Campaign Committee is composed of the following citizens: H. D. Hays, chairman; E. H. Smith, H. D. Hays, Gurney Newlin, Paul Smith, John D. Foster, W. C. Smith, D. K. Dickinson, Max Lowenthal and Fred Hughes.

The following letter resulted in a final acceptance of the nomination:

STRONG ENDORSEMENT.
 Earle Y. Boothe, president, National Car Company, No. 1255 South Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal.: Dear Sir:—We, the undersigned, citizens and taxpayers residing in the Second Supervisorial District, earnestly request that you permit your name to be submitted as a candidate for the office of Supervisor, to be voted on at the recall election to be held May 5.

We realize that in this request we are asking you to make a very costly sacrifice, and we appreciate the fact that you have agreed to do so. We are already given you a great deal of your time and energy, and we are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton.

We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton. We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton.

We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton. We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton.

We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton. We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton.

We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton. We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton.

We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton. We are sure that you will find a man better qualified for the office of Supervisor than the present incumbent, R. H. Norton.

BEARS ARE OPTIMISTIC.

Hope for Victory in Sports Saturday.

Track and Tennis Wins Are Almost Certain.

Captain Rubke Will Play in Baseball Game.

THE DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.
BERKELEY, April 2.—A track meet, a baseball game and a tennis tournament, all scheduled to take place upon the California campus Saturday will turn the day into a genuine athletic fiesta.

Pomona and the varsity track team are to compete upon the oval, the Stanford and the California baseball teams will play the second game of the series while the racket wielders of the two northern rivals are to decide the intercollegiate tennis championship.

In the first and last named contests California has what appears to be more than an even chance, but in the second the baseball game even the most reckless fan would hesitate to bet. The tennis match, however, will be a close one, a painful game on Wednesday with Pomona and Saturday, quite a close one.

HUNS WORKING.
The Pomona squad numbering twelve athletes have been training daily on the track. Some of the men are on the shelf and none of them are exactly out of form, but they state that their condition is not as good as before the U.S.C. and Occidental meets in the south.

The men have become accustomed to the cool morning weather and the advantage of a week's training should give a creditable performance Saturday.

The meet promises to be an exhibition of spectacular races in spite of the fact that it is bound to be one-sided. Gillette and Threlkeld, in the 100 and 220 will make a pretty pair of rivals. Threlkeld would like to clean the southern man in these events, but judging from Gillette's practice work the California sprinter is up against a hard proposition.

Green, in the quarter, finds a competitor in Clark, who is rounding late in the season into his accustomed form. The race means much to Clark for he has not made a brilliant showing this season, and he is planning to push Green to his limit. Green has made no threats, but he has jogged the path each morning wearing a smile.

STURGES MAY WIN.
In the distance the Sturges brothers are possibilities for first money. D. Sturges bucking against Ziehl and Stowitts, is bound to have a rough race, but his brother, W. Sturges, has lost his most dangerous competitor in the mile. Harry Wood is to occupy the slot.

Davies with a 5 ft. 10 in. record in the high jump is easily within the five-foot class. La Follette, the solid blue and white man in the 88, will have his hands more than full in contending with Crabbe and Cuscutt.

About sixty men are entered against the Huns, with the small team and the lack of pole vault entries they cannot hope for a victory. Walter Christie says the Pomona team should get thirty-five or forty points.

With a 4-5 defeat dancing before them the Blue and Gold will try to beat the Bears.

BUD ANDERSON FALLEN TO PRELIMINARY PURSES.

The Once Mighty Slugger, by Refusing to Make Weight, Has Become a Middleweight—Jimmy Clabby's Condition Said to Be Wonderful—Trying to Make a Match for Joe Rivers.

BUD ANDERSON, according to his former manager, Dan Dwyer, is back where he started—fighting for 175 pounds in Oregon.

"Bud seems to have no idea that he has been wrecked as a fighter," said Dick. "The last time I saw him he was still talking about what he would or would not do, as though he would be the right to dictate. His latest idea is that he won't make weight for anybody—not even for a champion; as though he had any remote chance of getting a fight with a champion."

"Success killed Bud. He never was a boxer and never will be. His one asset was his great strength. He could knock out anybody from almost any position."

"In the early days he would listen to reason and would take instructions of seconds. But after he came down to Los Angeles and beat Knock-out Brown and one or two other well-known fighters, a change came over him."

"After that he wouldn't listen to anybody. When you tried to give him his instructions in the corner during a fight, he would reply that he was doing the fighting and would do as he liked. During the last part of his fighting, he refused to work."

"When he was getting ready to fight Red Watson in the Coliseum, Bud did no work until three or four days before the fight. The Sunday before the fight he weighed 147 pounds. The following day he weighed almost five pounds. He did all his reducing the last three days before the fight."

"Although Bud was so badly beaten that they had to stop the fight, he seemed not to realize that anything serious had happened to him. Loss of prestige is a disaster that does not seem to occur to Bud."

"Bud could make the welterweight limit if he would go back to work, but he will not and he will undoubtedly be fighting from now on as a middleweight. The last I heard of him he was fighting for preliminary purses around Oregon."

As supplementing the remarks of "Dick" Donald came a private dispatch to The Times last night announcing that Bud was about to fight another Oregon boy and the "purses" was to be a big hay barn.

Johnny Schiff having graduated bell skill in the second of the series Saturday. The fans had a dark-brown taste since the first game, and the variety of one chance for redemption now comes.

RUBKE IN GAME.

From the California viewpoint one of the most encouraging factors will be the presence of Capt. Rip Rubke in the game. Since his accident in Southern California Rubke has not played until last Wednesday when he held down short against the Pomona. Another change in the lineup is the replacement of Ford by Dodge has blown up once this week with a loud bang he is to be given another chance and he will open hostilities from the mound for California. Line-up: Dodge, pitcher; Seaman, catcher; Dodson, first base; Hayes, second base; Glanelli, third base; Rubke, short stop; O'Hara, left field; Adair, center field; Young, right field.

A comparison of the rival tennis teams is extremely favorable to California. All of the team are veterans with the exception of Evans. The training season has been carried through without mishaps, and the team represents perhaps the strongest squad of college players in the Coast. California has won fourteen out of twenty-one matches with Stanford in the contest being the twenty-second.

Four matches out of five were won last year from the Cardinals. Indications are that the Cardinal team will not be as strong as in previous years. Hahn and Schless are the only veterans and the new material, Hutchinson and Uhl, has yet to be tested. The loss of Murray, Sheldon and Hutchinson makes a serious breach in the strength of the Stanford tennis men.

Good News.

TROUT FISHING REPORTED GOOD.

MORE FISHERMEN RETURN WITH GOOD CATCH.

San Gabriel Is Choice Spot. Several Limits Being Reported from the West Fork—Ventura River and Sepe Are Also Said to Be Full of Fish.

BY F. W. THATCHER.
Secretary Southern California Trout Association.

Reports have been received from nearly all the streams in Southern California, and although the outlook before the opening seemed somewhat discouraging, still the number of well-filled creels indicate that there will be excellent fishing for the season. The general conditions point to better fishing within the next two or three weeks, as the present water is high, and in some streams is a little muddy. Also at this time of the year there is abundance of good food for the trout.

The San Gabriel River shows the best results. Several limits have been taken on the opening day. The canyon is in condition now to accommodate the fishermen who wish to go up horseback or walk. It will take a few days before the river can be used for wagon traffic.

There has been a number of steel heads reported having been caught from the mouth of the canyon down to and beyond the bridge.

At Ventura, Word has been received from Fred Hartman of Ventura to the effect that fishing in that stream is starting off with good prospects. Although the river below the Castor Creek is somewhat better than the San Antonio.

Guy Hill fished the San Gabriel from the mouth of the canyon. He was back in town at noon with thirty-five fish, ranging from six to twelve inches.

J. L. Hambro and H. Rollins fished from the mouth of the canyon to the forks. They both secured limits, and it was reported that they had caught a couple of raw ones to keep from being arrested for having over the limit.

H. P. Hoffman and son and Mr. Rhodes will leave Friday morning for the mouth of the canyon. J. W. Glavin, Stonebraker and J. C. Pixley, well-known sportsmen of Orange, will leave for the mouth of the canyon. John for the Santa Ana River.

Floyd Crane and wife will spend a few days trying their luck on the San Gabriel River.

Little Creek reports show that the fishing will be better than usual this year. There are numerous parties made up to visit this stream, among those being Howard Gwynn, H. C. Macdonald, H. H. Wilcox and Dick Bullis.

M. C. Fowler and G. Baldwin will leave for a few days trip to Big Bear Lake. They were very successful last year in landing some record fish from that point.

BIG TROUT LANDED FROM VENTURA RIVER AT CASITAS

R. C. M. FREEMAN brought in the biggest fish story of the season and incidentally the biggest fish. Freeman landed a husky trout weighing eight pounds and one ounce while it covered 21½ inches on the tape measure.

Few people believed his yarn until he hauled the fish out of his safe and showed them. It was a regular fish with fins and all the necessary requirements. He hooked this record-breaker at Casitas Bridge on the Ventura River on Wednesday afternoon. It is now on exhibition at Dyas-Cline Company on Third street. He reports the fishing as being very good.

Angels Win in Tenth.

With a single. How many times can you recall anything like that happening? The breaks were all against Los Angeles until the last two innings. Phenomenal catches by Middleton and Quinlan in the sixth and seventh, right when a good break meant the game.

Oakland got to Crab for two runs in the first inning, while he was still cold. Quinlan's walk, Kaylor's triple and a single by Gardner did the business.

Gardner's fancy juggle of Magger's hard-hit grounder in the third, Moore's sacrifice and the opening by Page and Harper gave Los Angeles its first run in the third. All this Harper Quinlan did in a batting eye was to get three hits and a sacrifice. He scored a run in five visits to the plate while his third brother caught Murphy's fly in the third inning. Quinlan aided put one over in the fifth, over, spurring the rest of the team into safety, when Crab's spikes failed to hold, and he wound up in the attitude of one suddenly smacked with the colic. Kaylor's infield single and Murphy's sacrifice fly put Quinlan around.

WOLTER SCORES.
For the Angels, Wolter singled in field to Gardner, who fought the ball with considerable viciousness. Harry Johnson in the third inning, when Murphy dropped Alexander's throw. He went to third on Page's out, and was singled home by Harper. The sixth was also speckled with two tallies, one of Oakland persuasion. The half of the tenth by sending Alexander tripled to left, and scored. Magger's catch of Quinlan's fly in the third inning, when he reached third on Metger's sacrifice, and reached third on this critical juncture. "Dad" Meek was led from the stall, and the crowd was apprised that "Dad" would proceed to hit one safely for Crab. Meek looked one over, spurring the rest of the team into goodness of his heart. He then slugged the next one past Murphy with the speed of a cannon ball, with a good change of direction in his rear, and Johnson scored. It was a legitimate home run. This sent the Angels back to the field still on the ball, and the crowd was apprised that the Angels' bat sent Alexander to the hospital with a broken finger. Miller jumped into the gap, but he tottered along, and staggered into third just ahead of Murphy's relay of Quinlan's throw. "Pop" didn't have what time, the water above that point is clear, and a number of full creels have been reported up to noon on the morning of the tenth. What was as far as North or Matilla were successful in landing some good fish. There have been a large number of steelhead caught all along the river from the ocean up to as far as Wheeler's Camp or Matilla.

The new dam is very difficult to make, but to the energetic angler who is able to undergo a few hardships, the lower waters near the bridge at Fillmore the smaller brook variety of trout are somewhat scarce, but has been a number of good steelhead taken at this point.

The trout fishing condition seems to be a little more difficult than last year, but the prospects to the man who is patient in this line are better than during the past when the streams were more accessible.

Charles Jernehan, Bob Blankenship and Jerome Faulkner held the Sepe on the opening day. They all reported a satisfactory catch. Mr. Jernehan came back with thirty nice-size fish, ranging from six to fourteen inches.

C. E. Steedman made his maiden trout-fishing trip to the Sepe yesterday and came back with twenty nice specimens. He is now in the near future, will try it again. John L. Richardson and a few days before the river can be used for wagon traffic.

Attorney's office, will leave Saturday for the Malibu. Byron C. Hanna will leave for the mouth of the canyon. Anything is conducted on a fair basis.

Asa Keyes and Bill Ewing will leave tomorrow for the Ventura River.

P. J. Harwood, Harwood, Thayer, William Thayer, Amos Allen and Charles Allen fished on the San Antonio River. They were very successful, plenty of fish, although the size is somewhat smaller than they would have liked to have had.

Elmer de Camp and Jack Curran of Pomona also fished the San Antonio with satisfactory results. Elmer de Camp will spend the next four or five days trying their luck on the San Gabriel River.

Little Creek reports show that the fishing will be better than usual this year. There are numerous parties made up to visit this stream, among those being Howard Gwynn, H. C. Macdonald, H. H. Wilcox and Dick Bullis.

MOTTO "HUMP" NOT "HUMPH."

Fairbanks Tells Us Why We Go Scrabbling Ahead.

We Promptly Made Honorary Realty Boarder.

Wilmington Whoops Once or Twice for Practice.

Former Vice-President Fairbanks
visited his abiding faith in Southern California yesterday in a talk at the afternoon luncheon of the Realty board at the Hotel Clark. "The best estate booster of us all," shouted
a member as he put a motion that the distinguished and unexpected
guest be made an honorary member.
The motion was put and carried amid cheers.

"My father was born in New England," said Fairbanks, "I myself in Massachusetts, and I have a number of grand-children who were born in California. To borrow the language of the old adage, my ancestry evidently found it cheap to move to this part of the world. Just between me and I, that wasn't the sole reason, however, for, if I know my own people, my family's disposition was to follow the star of opportunity westward, and also get the benefit of the fresh air."

Twenty years ago some of your present inhabitants were saying that Southern California was riding a boom
and that it couldn't stand the pace.
They are breaking all speed records in growth, and it is only the people who are willing to set a limit to future growth.

"Now, some of you may say that I have been handing out this brand
for years, and in better shape,
and also that I had made a public statement to not afflict myself on any gatherings in Southern California in the role of a speaker. But I am leaving Saturday for home, and I am not getting any enthusiasm out of my system. At any rate, your chairman has captured me with the assertion that I should have the opportunity to sit down among the real citizens of the land."

NO MOSS HERE.
"One thing I like—especially about
this country is that there is no suggestion of accumulated moss. I am speaking of moss in the George Washington Hotel, and of the variety which grows in the old ruins and other inanimate things. Touch and go is your spirit, and there is progressiveness everywhere. Be not alarmed, I am not going to talk politics."

"Some time back I graced a little thing, made a little talk, and a most gentlemanly and well-meaning gentleman lavished some ill-deserved compliments on me. I liked that gentleman, and I am sure he is a fine
man. He was in the real estate business, offering corner lots in the Jerusalem to selling them here.
I noticed that the rest have been talking about the harbor, I will put in a reminder in a reminiscent way. When I went up to Washington on the rail I found that $2,500,000 was being used to build a breakwater for San Diego. Perhaps you have forgotten it, but I haven't, that there are opposing factions in Washington, as well as here. Together they are building a breakwater for San Diego. Alger stampeded—kind, old man, who was so anxious to do right thing that he was nervous
about it."

The President McKinley heard of this with that sober judgment and mastery of himself, which made him the ideal executive, weighed the pros and cons, turned his keen insight to the problem, in other words, and you got your breakwater located where you wanted it, and also other things.

A GREAT FUTURE.
"Now, my sober sense, not my enthusiasm, tells me that you have a great future, and that in a short time there will be as many people in Southern California as there are in the whole of California
now. But I also see your harbor as a great commercial port of the west, fringed around with industries, and, as of old, the state man keeping everything moving."

Commissioner Gilmer spoke of the harbor, and the preparedness
of the world. "D. R. Woods of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce on that city's harbor celebration on the 15th inst., while Manager of the California Savings Bank of the coming of new steamship lines."

The harbor will be ready for 1915
the commerce of the world," said Gilmer. "Right now the largest shipping world wide ample anchorage dockage room in the outer harbor, for the commission is that the Board of Engineers and Harbor will, on the recommendation of the engineer, recommend the widening of the navigable channel from 500 to 1000
feet."

According to Gilmer, wharfrage facilities are now offered or assured will permit the landing of tens of thousands of tons yearly,
and the unloading of in the history of other man-made harbor. He told of the new municipal wharf,
the largest reinforced wharf
in the world, the plans for others, the transit sheds to be erected, the new wharf being worked out to create a municipal railroad terminal, and to any railroad, and stated that the same impetus to a rapid motor-service to and from the harbor
will result from the building of State highways.

WILMINGTON REDIVIVUS.
"Where the railroads came," said
Gilmer, "Wilmington, sometimes known as Goosestown, sometimes as and flats down there," was the largest city in Southern California and had the biggest commerce.
In 1872, it was destroyed. It was rebuilt in 1887, for the Southern Pacific got San Pedro and Wilmington, and the shipping business drifted to a remote state. But we are ready to join in celebrating the centennial of the first American-Hawaiian. Come one, come all, and the lady dropped from the aero-plane and the fellow fell centered to be picked up by the police boat. It was a big day for us and for you, and the day is not far distant when the harbor from the breakwater to the back will be surrounded by industrial concerns."

Commissioner Gilmer stated that six large ship companies are preparing to have a campaign
against the Hamburg
steamer Cleveland call here
and the canal. "Angelenos spend about a year on foreign travel,"

he said, "and the first around-the-world touring party via the canal
should come to us."
A committee of twenty-five, headed by Robert B. Armstrong, chairman of the day, to represent the Board at the Wilmington celebration. It was voted to increase the Membership Campaign Committee from fifteen to thirty.

LAURA JEAN LIBBEY TALKS HEART TOPICS.

Do Wealthy Widowers Need a Guardian?—What He Misses.

"Love never fails to master what he finds.
But works a different way, in different minds.
The fool enlightens—and the wise he blinds."

It has generally been supposed that the genial bachelor is admired by womanhood. But he knows he has a formidable rival in the man who touches the chord of sympathy in all hearts—the lonely widower. All know the bachelor can find pleasure wherever he will. His distant relatives know the fullness of building air castles to house his wealth; for he is liable to see a woman who appeals to him any day and to wed.

Not so with the widower. His life runs in a far different groove. The Alpha and Omega of his happiness
have been home and the dear ones therein. If he has a family of sons and daughters he knows he has these near and dear to help tide over the loneliest of confessions. If he has no family, nearest of kin volunteer to look after him, that he shall not know the lack of cheer,
home comforts and affection.

All works well for a time. They wait upon him hand and foot; jealously they guard him from outsiders, especially women who express their sympathy. They do not disturb the even tenor of his ways by giving him
these messages. He has no knowledge that he is an object of solicitude in kindly women's hearts. "We cannot guard dear uncle too carefully," con-fides his niece in the solitude of her room to her husband. "If he were poor these people who are interested in him would be indifferent. It keeps me alert heading off marriageable
women who have taken a sudden notion to call upon me. If Widow Brown calls tomorrow evening again, starting to the dinner hour, I'll be obliged to ask her to dine. Then you inveigle uncle out of the house on one pretext or another. Dine him at the best restaurant. Widow Brown is unusually fascinating."

Thus it happens women friends are never brought in contact with him.
It goes without saying the widower used to sunshine of a woman's presence, passes restless hours in the solitude of the four walls he now calls home. He misses the sweet tone of woman's voice, the soft touch of her hand, human companionship which makes life worth living to the solitary. Careful espionage over the widower increases his discontent. He wakes up to this state of affairs soon or late; is forced to break away from solitude. There are men who live in the past. Others believe sweetness of existence is not entirely vanished for them. In this state of mind he meets a woman whose ideas coincide with his own. The two are drawn together in a bond of sympathy. The dying embers of affection are rekindled in his heart. Relatives or friends may not cater to a man so successfully that he may not again consider marriage. A widower is only mortal.
When lonely, heartless, he misses the presence of one nearer and dearer than all others. He needs no guardian.

MISS LIBBEY'S ANSWERS TO YOUR LETTERS.
(Correct name and address must be given to insure attention.)
A Devoutful Lover.
Dear Miss Libbey: I am a girl of
twenty and have been keeping regular company with a young man for over a year. I introduced him to a girl friend to whom he seems to have taken a liking. He calls her up on the phone, asking to take her out or call on her. He tells her not to let me know. She enjoys telling me about it and says he does not care
for me—judging from the way he talks to her. When I tell him of it he says he does it to kid her, but still he gets angry about it. Do you think this girl is trying to cause trouble between us or do you think he is tiring of me? I care for him. When with me he seems to think there is no one like me. Is he deceitful?
JEALOUS HEARTED.
I would not put confidence, if I were you, in a man who is light o' love, fickle. It is not natural for a man who truly loves one girl to waste
his time and thoughts upon another in whom he is not interested. He is certainly untrustworthy. Marriage with such a life partner might mean
much unhappiness for you.

Her Good Times All Yet to Come.
Dear Miss Libbey: I am a girl of 16—at only child—and get very lonely at times. I have a few boy friends, but none seem to enjoy my company. They come once or twice, saying they will call again, but never
do. What do you think the trouble is?
My parents—that is, my mother
—allows me to go to picture shows
but seldom, though there's one two blocks away, and occasionally I'm permitted to accompany her, or go
with such a life partner might mean
much unhappiness for you.

Girls of 16 are too young to receive attention or falls from boys.
Probably the subjects you choose in conversing weary them. Boys rarely call constantly on any one particular girl. Your mother is the best and truest friend you have in the world,
all she does and says is for your good. Tell her how dependent you feel at times, and she will gladly allow you to have plenty of bright, cheery young girl friends to come to see you and make the time pass pleasantly for you.

In Doubt.
Dear Miss Libbey: I am a woman of 43 (single). A widower with four children has proposed marriage to me. Would I set him if I took him?
If you love each other, marry him.
You must make up your mind to love
his children as you would your own
to insure happiness all around.
LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

Pere Marquette Foreclosure.
(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.)
DETROIT, April 5.—Pere Marquette's foreclosure proceedings against the Hamburg steamship line, which defaulted yesterday in the payment of its semi-annual interest of $5,000,000 bonds,
were begun in the Federal Court here today.

STRANGLER BY RIGHT HAND.

Expert Declares Woman Was Victim of Another.

Murder Defense Given Hard Blow by Physician.

Widower Tells in Court of Their Relations.

That Mrs. Harriet Vorndam was strangled to death by some person who used their right hand, was the testimony of Dr. A. F. Malsch, former county autopsy surgeon, yesterday
in Judge Craig's court, where Manuel Francis Cabral, a wealthy Portuguese fisherman, is on trial charged with the murder of the woman, who was found dead in his apartment on October 29, 1913.

Cabral's attorneys are advancing the defense that the woman strangled herself or that death might have been dueto apoplexy or narcotic poisoning.
Among the witnesses during the day
was the husband of the dead woman, Gus Vorndam, formerly head waiter at Harlow's Cafe. He testified as to the relations existing between him and Mrs. Vorndam during the two years previous to her death, stating that they had not lived together

for any long period during that time.
Dr. Malsch testified as to the facts brought out by his dissection of the body. He was on the stand almost the entire forenoon.

MARKS ON NECK.
He described the condition of the body with particular reference to the throat and neck, mentioning an abra-sion on the neck on the right side
between the ear and the collar bone.
There were two other marks three inches below the left ear which, in the opinion of the witness, might have been caused by the fingers of the right hand of a person standing in a position facing the victim.

Chile Deputy District Attorney Ford obligingly removed his collar in order that an action of this kind might be illustrated for the benefit of the jury by the witness.

The autopsy was performed at 11 o'clock on October 29. The doctor stated that in his opinion the woman had been dead about ten or twelve hours at that time.

QUOTES DRAPER.
In the cross-examination Attorney Dehm, for the accused, attempted to show that the congestion of blood in the neck, the condition of the lungs
and heart might be equally indicative of death from apoplexy or narcotic poisoning. He read extensively from various text-books, quoting Draper particularly, to the effect that it was usual for the eyes to be dilated, the face discolored and mottled and the throat swollen and bitten in cases of death from strangulation.

The witness replied that these were symptoms of strangulation, if found,
but that their absence did not imply
that death had been otherwise caused.
Ford questioned the witness concerning self-strangulation. The doctor stated that the ability to strangle oneself is a matter of degree, and that the character of the agency employed.
He stated that he had no first-hand information, and had read of only one case in which a person had strangled himself, using only his hands.

He stated to be his belief that such a method of suicide would be impossible, for, as the person attempting suicide became unconscious
the hands would relax. Or, if the person's intensity of will was sufficient to keep the hands in place, their involuntary struggle for air would be sufficient to displace the hands as they became unconscious.

The accused showed no signs of nervousness other than an unconscious twisting of his hands from time to time.

OUTLINES CASE.
Deputy District Attorney Veltch in his opening address to the jury said that the State would attempt to prove that the defendant had been very persistent in his attention to Mrs.
Vorndam, despite her attempts to avoid him. On the afternoon of October 27 she, accompanied by Mrs.
Laura Reynolds, moved to the Mission apartments. That afternoon Cabral said to have telephoned her demanding that he be allowed to come up. He remained for about an hour, saying that he had frightened her Mrs. Vorndam by his strange behavior.

Later, the same afternoon, he is said to have registered at the Mission apartments under the name of J.
Wilson. He was assigned to apartment 19B, which was just across the hall
from that occupied by Mrs. Vorndam.
At 3 o'clock on the morning of October 29, the landlady, J. B. Elmore,
heard the sound of breaking glass,
and going upstairs found Cabral just outside his door. Cabral said that he had accidentally broken the door. At 4 o'clock on this same morning Mrs.
Reynolds returned to the Mission apartments, where she found that her door was still locked, but that Cabral's door was ajar.

She pushed it open and entered to find Mrs. Vorndam lying on the bed in a natural and relaxed position.
The room was not disturbed, although there was an ornament of Mrs. Vorndam lying in the middle of the room.

Veltch said that the State considered the evidence as outlined about to be so conclusive as to warrant them in asking for the extreme penalty.

The courtroom was crowded all week, came from San Luis Obispo.

SMUGGLERS FOUND GUILTY.

Jury in Federal Court Convicts
Chinese Who Shipped Contrabands Across Border.

The jury in the United States District Court, in the case of Sam Yick and Jung Kim of Bakersfield, charged with smuggling three Chinese contrabanders across the line from Mexico in the fall of 1911, yesterday returned a verdict of guilty. The defendants were admitted to bail in the sum of $2000, and a thirty days stay of execution was allowed by the court.

The case against Yick and Kim was bristled to be urged in behalf of the defendants that they had been induced to
violate the law through the suggestion or joint conspiracy of a Federal official.

In the charge to the jury Judge Wellborn reiterated the doctrine announced in the Woo Wei case by Judge Van Fleet, that it was no defense to be urged in behalf of the defendants that they had been induced to
violate the law through the suggestion or joint conspiracy of a Federal official.

was found dead in a lodging-house at
No. 34 1/2 South Los Angeles street yesterday afternoon, with a hose from a gas burner in his mouth and the gas running full force. Deeply

PASADENA, April 3.—The tension at the Oak Knoll home of Frederick W. Weyerhaeuser, the octogenarian financier, who after amazing what is reputed to be the largest fortune in America, has been making the hardest fight of his life against death, was relieved yesterday. Reports came from the house all day that the multi-millionaire was much better and last night his condition was so much improved that his recovery is now confidently looked for by the physicians who are attending him.

Several times within the last few days he was thought to be breathing his last, and last Monday morning the members of the family had practically given up all hope.

The apparent recovery of the timber king, whose sickness has been news of importance in practically every part of the United States and Canada, is considered by his physicians to be remarkable. He has exhibited a vitality almost unbelievable in a man of his years.

He is not as yet, however, pronounced entirely out of danger and the corps of doctors who pulled him through the siege of pneumonia he has had, are still staying at the house day and night, while all of the members of the family, most of whom rushed to Pasadena from the East, as fast as steam could bring them, on hearing of his illness, continue to stay here. It was reported yesterday evening that a comfortable night was looked forward to, and if the master's condition continues to improve today and tomorrow as rapidly as it did yesterday, he will soon be considered out of danger.

TO MEET HERE.

The 1914 annual meeting of the Southern California Association of Agricultural Schools will be held at the Pasadena High School on the 18th inst. The instruction in agriculture and horticulture has now become an important factor of the work in most of the schools of the Pacific Coast and the meeting will be an important one. Plans will be discussed for work for the ensuing year and valuable papers and reports will be read.

W. S. Kleinholz, who has charge of the agricultural work in the Pasadena schools, is president of the organization and several other Pasadena men have taken an active part in its work. This will be the first time for the organization to meet in Pasadena. A number of prominent educators will be as follows:

"The Norton System of Financial Accounting on the High School Farm," J. H. Norton, Pasadena High School; "The Utility Point of View of the Practical Work in Agriculture and Horticulture," Carlos N. Carter, Pasadena High School; "Animal Husbandry and Dairying in the High School Course," Sylvester B. Hall, Gardena High School; "Soil Science in the Agricultural Course," L. C. Menner, Whittier High School; "Agriculture in the Course," F. E. Older, professor of agriculture at the Los Angeles Normal School; "A Justification for Agriculture," Miss Charlotte Hoak, supervisor of gardening in the Pasadena grammar schools; "Culture and Agriculture,"

Dr. Jeremiah M. Rhodes, Superintendent of Schools in Pasadena; "Investigations of the Citrus Experiment Station of the University of California," Dr. J. H. Webber, director of the Riverside station; "Pathological and Disease Investigations Carried on by the Citrus Experiment Station of the University of California," Dr. J. T. Barrett, plant pathologist.

A luncheon at the High School will follow the High School and grammar school sessions, which will be held simultaneously in the morning. J. N. Smith, president of the Pasadena Board of Education, will be the toastmaster.

TRAILS ALL MADE ANEW.

Today will practically see the more important ravages of the recent storm in the Arroyo Seco repaired. A force of government employees has been at work ever since under the supervision of Forest Supervisor Charlton and under the direction of Ralph Douma, the government ranger of the arroyo, rebuilding the trail to Switzer's Camp. The finishing touches were put on it yesterday and travel to this camp is now made easy. The bridges that were washed away have not been rebuilt, but in their places logs have been placed across the stream so that one may proceed all the way dryshod.

The trail between Switzer's Camp and Co's Camp is also being repaired and work has been in progress on several others of the trails used by the forest rangers. With the completion of these trails the forest rangers will be able to patrol the range as efficiently this coming summer as they were last year.

Several times within the last few days he was thought to be breathing his last, and last Monday morning the members of the family had practically given up all hope.

TEACHING ART

Build Towns.Los Angeles Educators Invited to Attend Festival.Junction's Name to Change
on Postal Lists.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

EL CENTRO, April 2.—Teachers and pupils of Imperial Valley schools will take an educational trip to El Centro and the north end Saturday for the purpose of educating them on the wonderful transformation now taking place, wherein 100,000 acres are being brought under water and cultivation and cities are being built like magic.

The County Superintendent and principals here and throughout the schools of the valley are invited to participate, and invitations were extended Mark Kappel, Superintendent of Schools of Los Angeles county, and City Superintendent J. H. Francis and Asst. Supt. Susan B. Dorsey and other noted educators throughout Southern California.

There are more than 5000 school children in Imperial Valley, and special trains will be provided, thus insuring the largest attendance of any day since the opening of Niland. The town is to be an educational playground for the school children of the entire valley. From every city to the south, as far as Calexico on the international boundary, school children and their teachers are coming to Niland to learn the wonders of city-making.

The day is to be a gala one, in that the children will be treated to a special barbecue and regaled with gifts of candy and pennants. But of more importance is the fact that there is to be a lecture, prepared by their understanding and illustrated with the actualities of the activities that are incident to the springing up of a new city in this northern part of what was, ten years ago, Simon-pure desert.

Besides the teachers who escort the children, it is expected that many of their parents will attend, especially those who have not yet participated in any of the excursions that have so far been held.

Word reached here that electricity is on the way. The Sierra Power and Light Company is rushing the development of its wires here, and in less than two months from the time of the "opening," Niland will have the conveniences and service of light and power.

Twenty store buildings, according to Arthur E. Hill, president of the California Land and Water Company, will be under way before the end of the month. In every instance where the buyer of a business lot has announced his intention to build, the Pacific Electric Company in La Habra Valley for $17,000. It is said George will at once begin the erection.

DUMMY "KILLED"
BY APRIL'S FOOL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

POMONA, April 2.—A carload of passengers was thrown into shrieking excitement about 1 o'clock this morning and $100 worth of equipment was rendered useless, when a practical joker placed a dummy man on the Pacific Electric track near Lobsburg in a standing posture before a speeding car from Los Angeles.

The car crew and passengers thought it was a real man. The motorman desperately applied the emergency brakes and then the train crew and passengers, who had been well shaken up by the sudden stop, hurried back, expecting to find a dead man on the tracks. The bundle of straw was well crushed.

The strain of the sudden stop "mattered" the wheels and a new set had to be installed.

tion of a two-story brick building which will contain several store-rooms.

Another 11-acre place was sold in the east end of La Habra Valley yesterday to a newcomer from the East for $22,000. The tract is set for oranges and lemons and only a few acres have been planted.

The First Bank of La Habra has opened for business. The directors are John Leutwyler, H. E. Hart, J. C. Klupp, J. F. Condon, J. H. Walker, H. O. Price and John Lehm. The officers being John Lehm, president; J. C. Klupp, vice-president; J. H. Walker, cashier. Mr. Walker for a number of years was an active officer of the First National Bank of Plattsburg, Mo. The new institution has a capital stock of $25,000 and a surplus of $2500. The deposits the first day far exceeded the expectation of the officers.

Electric Car Passes Over Body of Frenchman—Special Train Carries Officials.

WHITTIER, April 2.—The body of Louis Brutinel, a Frenchman, 57 years old, was found close to the Pacific Electric track near King's station this afternoon. From appearance it is believed that Brutinel was hit by a passing car. He had been out in the field this afternoon with his employer, Cleveland Fitzgerald. He was struck and cut in the head and died.

Evidently he was walking between the two tracks of the Pacific Electric when struck, and cut in the head and died. The Pacific Electric sent a special train from this city with the coroner on board, who, when he had arrived, held an investigation, and then took the remains into the city.

PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ANAHEIM, April 2.—A special meeting was held yesterday evening at the Anaheim National Bank, by members of the River Protection Committee, comprising F. C. Krause, chairman; M. W. Weimer, E. N. Cook, E. A. Day and G. Bruns, for the purpose of formulating plans for the campaign. Steps will be taken immediately toward securing the adjacent territory to the Santa Ana River, and a protection district of defined boundaries will be established. The purpose of which will be to raise one-half of the funds necessary for adequate protection. The county will appropriate the remaining portion. The successful conclusion of the matter is an assured thing at a much lesser cost than at first anticipated.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

SAN BERNARDINO, April 2.—In a case involving the payment of $159,000 bonds against the Perris Irrigation District, Judge B. F. Bledsoe this afternoon upheld the law, which makes it the duty of the Board of Supervisors to levy a special tax against a district when the bondholders fail to secure payment by the regular channels.

The Perris district bonds have been in litigation for some years, the holders finally making a demand on the supervisors that they collect them by making a special levy against the district. The land-owners brought an injunction suit, attacking the constitutionality of the act, under which the supervisors were cited to act. Judge Bledsoe decides the levy must be made.

It is estimated that not less than $1,000,000 worth of similar bonds in California hinged on the outcome of this case. It is probable the decision will be appealed.

REPUBLICANS ACTIVE.

The Young Republicans of this city and Riverside will gather in a rallying rally in the courtroom of Department Two of the Superior Court Friday evening. Both women and men will be welcomed and it is expected the young hosts of the party in these two cities will be addressed by several of the leading men of the party in the two counties.

The Young Republican Club organized some time ago in this city and has been engaged in some excellent work in the interest of a united party in this city and county and plans are in the making for an active campaign from this time on until the fall elections are held and the party kept in power in this county. Several automobile-loads of the enthusiastic younger members of the party will come over from Riverside Friday evening for the rally.

M'GOARTY TO SPEAK.

Arrangements have been completed by the committee for the principal address to be delivered at the joint banquet of the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Association, April 16 by John S. McGroarty of Los Angeles. He has not as yet announced his subject.

Other addresses will be delivered by President W. M. Parker of the Chamber of Commerce and President G. M. Cooley of the Merchants' Association. Visiting representatives of chambers in other cities will also probably give short talks. Special music will also be provided, both orchestra and a male quartette. The affair will be held in the banquet-room of the Old Fellow's Temple.

WORK ON HIGHWAY.

Work on the State highway on the Footfall boulevard between this city and Upland is progressing more rapidly and with the passing of danger of damage by heavy rains. It is expected the contractors will crowd the work rapidly.

The contractors are laying the concrete on the new route of the road directly east from Upland to the old road from Cucamonga. The road is closed for travel on that portion, but not on the eastern end where the concrete is well finished.

However, he will into the summer there are twenty miles between San Bernardino and beyond are completed.

Contractors are now getting ready to begin work on the section between Upland and Claremont. The latter city has provided for the road through OCEAN PARK, April 2.—Until Mrs. J. B. Jackling, former wife of the millionaire copper magnate of Utah and Arizona, recovers sufficiently to be interviewed by officers of the law one of the most important clues as to the whereabouts of Thomas Fogarty, alleged forger, will be lacking.

The woman whose name was supposedly signed to the $5000 check passed at the Merchants Commercial and Savings Bank of this city remains in seclusion at her home on Brooks avenue. Her attendant refuses to admit callers.

Mrs. Jackling may make good the check because of her frequent dealings with the bank. She is very wealthy and is reputed to be philanthropic in her dealings. Just how she became acquainted with Fogarty may throw additional light on the transaction which has made Fogarty a fugitive from justice. If he is innocent the residents who know him here naturally wish to know why he did not remain to "face the music."

Inasmuch as the detectives have failed to find any trace of the missing man during the past three weeks, it is possible that the young fellow has eluded his pursuers and is now in the Orient. However, the Pacific Bankers' Association will not let up the search until the statute of limitations is past some seven years hence.

PICTURE MEN CATCH
EXPLODING BIPLANE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

POMONA, April 2.—A premature explosion at the Pomona Speedway site late this afternoon completely destroyed a biplane in which Aviator Glenn Martin was about to sail aloft and explode one of the electric bombs to be used in tomorrow's battle of the clouds for the advance benefit of a moving-picture company.

Martin was about ready for the flight when he left his machine to get his gloves and the bomb, without warning, exploded. It plowed a cavernous hole in the ground, but luckily no persons near the scene were injured and the movie operator secured a film depicting a real explosion.

It seemed almost as if the event had been planned, it was so realistic. Martin went at once for Los Angeles and was back by midnight with another biplane to replace the one destroyed.

All preparations for the show have been completed. The Pacific Electric has made arrangements to care for the large crowds expected and has laid sidetracks near the speedway

RIVERSIDE, April 2.—Elbas A. Chase, the veteran orange grower, was host today at a notable dinner served in the court dining-room of the Glenwood Mission Inn. Eight octogenarians gathered about the old-fashioned dining-room table, over which was spread a "turkey" and a beehive. The table service included ancient vintage and the decorations were confined to old-fashioned flowers.

The combined ages of the eight men, who are all in excellent health, total 632 years. The average age of the men well known throughout Southern California.

The host guests took a keen interest in the dinner whose menu was also characteristic of pioneer days. The dinner was given by the Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce Hope to Obtain One Thousand Members.

W. H. Ellis, who represented the district in the Assembly during the past term, announced today that he would not again be a candidate for the place. Ellis, who is now living in the Peace of Riverside towards holds that interpreting the law is preferable to law-making and is a Progressive who would rather be elected justice of the peace than to be returned to Sacramento. He is a candidate for the Assembly next year.

ONE TERM ENOUGH.

"One thousand members" is the slogan adopted for the campaign launched by the Chamber of Commerce committee to have charge of membership matters. The demands of the services of the organization with respect to development matters have never been so heavy, and in order to adequately meet these demands it is proposed to increase the present membership of about 200 to maintain three times the number, if possible.

SALE OF FIFTY ACRES.

Plans for the further development of subdivision property near the head of old Magnolia avenue are discussed with the purchase by J. The transfer was made through the general agent of the subdivision plans in this city which will include the property acquired by Rhodes.

of Suspects' Arrest.

THE DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.
MARTINEZ (Cal.) April 2.—Thirty electric detonators, used in the exploding of dynamite charges, all connected to insulated wires and compressed in a box with a battery of dry cells and wired alarm clock, was the evidence which the prosecution succeeded in introducing in the trial of J. J. Mooney today over the prosecution's objection of the defense.

A shotgun with the barrels painted white and a rifle equipped with a telescopic sight, as well as a heavy automatic pistol, and several pairs of gloves, alleged to be intended for use in the execution of the crime, were also introduced in evidence. The identification with a view to later showing them in evidence when admitted was taken for the day.

A STRIKE ON.

The employees of the big electric power plant on the banks of the San Joaquin River at the time of the finding of these articles in the plant were on strike. The strike was called off on December 27 that it is the arrest of the men by the indicted persons.

DYNAMITE MISSING.

Mooney's attorneys fought the introduction of the infernal machine and the weapons on the ground that the dynamite was not the same as the dynamite under the meaning of the old laws of 1887, under which the man was charged with the crime. The dynamite was found in the boat was complete for the explosion of dynamite, but the dynamite was missing for the day.

WHAT A LEAK DID.

Circumstances have played a remarkable part in the case, according to summary brought out today. It was found that a leak in the boat caused the dynamite to explode. The dynamite was found in the boat was complete for the explosion of dynamite, but the dynamite was missing for the day.

THE BOAT'S PURCHASE.

The testimony today covered the purchase of the boat by the three men. Gus Gregoris in South Vallejo, Calif., landed and discovery at the boat. Gregoris, said the men had then taken a box and a suit case with them. The dynamite was found in the boat was complete for the explosion of dynamite, but the dynamite was missing for the day.

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—Charles Kelly of the erstwhile army of the unemployed was convicted on a charge of vagrancy by a jury at noon today after thirty minutes' deliberation. He was sentenced Saturday.

The closing hours of Kelly's trial were marked by verbal clashes between the Chief Deputy Charles Jones and the unemployed men. Strangers in the courtroom guffawed at Jones during the trial. Kelly arose from his seat at one point and delivered a speech and disputed a statement of the prosecution.

WOUNDS HIS AUDIENCE.

Minister Asks His Hearers to Soothe If They Think the Meeting Is an Entertainment.

MARTINEZ (Cal.) April 2.—Shaking his head at a group of regulars in the crowd, the minister of the First Presbyterian Church here, Dr. Mark A. Matthews, said that the First Presbyterian Church and its former moderator of the last assembly, Dr. Matthews, were not to be taken seriously.

For a moment he stood thus, his face set in a stern, unsmiling expression, and a note of satire was in his words. "There are two questions you are desirous of answering," he said, "and I am going to answer them for you. The first is, 'What is the purpose of this meeting?' The answer is, 'To bring about a union of the workers and the employers.' The second is, 'What is the result of this meeting?' The answer is, 'A union of the workers and the employers.'"

Shredded Wheat
the food that builds muscle and bone and brain—a natural, elemental food—containing no yeast, no baking powder or chemicals of any kind—just the pure whole wheat grain, steam-cooked, shredded and baked. Better than porridges for children because the crispness of the shreds compels mastication which not only develops sound teeth, but is the first process in digestion.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with baked apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas or canned or preserved fruits. ## Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Public Works Committee of the Council divided its labors yesterday and hereafter Councilman Bryant will have direct charge of street affairs, while Councilman Snowden will have charge of tunnel affairs. Snowden will present to the Council a report on tunnels in which he will recommend the immediate adoption of an ordinance of intention for the Second-street tunnel and that the Council pledge itself to the construction of the First-street tunnel as soon as the plans are perfected and obstacles removed.

Socialist Councilman Wheeler yesterday harangued the Council on the labor situation. He has been prodded much of late by his constituents because he did not inject more socialism into the Council's affairs and took the occasion yesterday to make a grand stand play.

A new fight against the undertakers' zone opposite Rosedale cemetery, on Washington street, was renewed yesterday. The Board of Education protests and a hearing will be given the subject next Thursday.

A Superior Judge yesterday said he considered it an honor for a citizen to notify the police that a crime was contemplated, even though an arrest followed of an innocent party and the informer was sued for damages for false arrest.

The man who cornered the 5-cent piece market in San Francisco before the fire, has no heirs that can be found and the Public Administrator yesterday turned his estate over to the County Treasurer on the order of the Probate Court.

At the City Hall.

SECOND-STREET TUNNEL FIRST.

THAT'S THE PRESENT PLAN OF CITY COUNCILMEN.

Purpose to introduce Ordinance of Intention for this Bore and Also Report Committee, City to Construction of First-Street Passage-way as Soon as Plans Perfected.

The Public Works Committee of the City Council, now composed of only two members, Councilmen Bryant and Snowden, yesterday came to an agreement for the division of labors. Bryant, who is chairman of the committee, will have general supervision of street affairs, and Snowden will devote his attention to tunnel affairs.

As soon as he can prepare it, Snowden will present to the City Council a report outlining his recommendations for procedure on the First-street and Second-street tunnels. He stated last night that he will recommend that an ordinance of intention to construct the Second-street tunnel be adopted as soon as possible, so that the preliminary work on this project may be advanced without loss of time; and that his report will also definitely commit the Council to the construction of the First-street tunnel as soon as the plans are perfected and the difficulties now encountered are out of the way.

Snowden declared that he would like to have both tunnels placed under one proceeding, but "that this would cause delay of months in the starting of work on the Second-street project, and that he believed the report that he will submit will so thoroughly commit the Council to the First-street tunnel project that it will satisfy those who have been fearful that a start of the Second-street bore would mitigate against the other one. Snowden's report probably will be ready for the Council the first of next week. He will advise the placing of the east portal at Olive street, and grading Clay street down to the tunnel approach.

GALLERY PLAY.

SOCIALIST WHEELER TALKS.

A communication from the "Army of the Unemployed," erstwhile campers in the riverbed, but now living at the city's expense in the East Side Jail, was read before the City Council yesterday. The communication offered to furnish the "army" for work on the First-street and Second-street tunnels, provided they get 13 a day. Councilman Snowden declared that as considerable time must elapse before the tunnel work is commenced, the men evidently intended to settle down to a comfortable wait. He expressed the opinion that they might get quite hungry in the meantime. Councilman Snowden wanted to know why these men were sent to jail instead of being placed in the Griffith Park camp, where they could work for the city in exchange for food and lodging, and was informed that they wouldn't work for less than a specified rate of wages.

Councilman Wheeler, the Socialist, has been harpooned quite frequently of late by his constituents, who are dissatisfied by his failure to inject more of their peculiar logic into affairs at the Council. He seized the opportunity to make a grand stand play. Wheeler denounced the entire system that would allow a situation where men are unemployed, and used a vivid imagination in depicting a situation where men who were paying for their horses had elected to join the camp of the unemployed in the riverbed.

Gaining inspiration from his own oratory, Wheeler, by inference, compared the riverbed campers with Jesus Christ, and declared that if Jesus of Nazareth should come to Los Angeles today and conduct himself as he did in Palestine he would be placed under arrest.

After Wheeler had made his grandstand play the Council voted to file the communication from the "Army of the Unemployed."

ELECTION ORDINANCE.

GOES TO COUNCIL TODAY.

The City Attorney today will present to the Council the ordinance calling an election on May 8 on the proposition to issue $6,500,000 bonds for the completion of the aqueduct power plant No. 1 and for the acquisition or construction of a distributing system. It is probable that the two items will go before the people on one proposition, although a strong effort has been made by Councilmen Conwell and Longdon to have the items presented separately. It is proposed to use $1,250,000 for the completion of the power plant and erection of a sub-station within the city limits; and $5,250,000 for the acquisition or construction of a distributing system.

Regulation of Utilities.

The City Club yesterday extended to the City Council an invitation to attend and participate in a meeting of the club tomorrow noon, at the Union League Club. The subject will be "Shall the Public Utilities of Los Angeles Be Regulated by the State Railroad Commission?" Tracey Chatfield Becker will speak in the affirmative and A. F. Southworth in the negative. This is to be followed by a general discussion. Recently the report of the Public Utilities Committee of the City Club was presented, favoring the City retaining its rate-fixing powers. It was decided not to act upon the report until the subject was publicly discussed.

Masonry Courts Desired.

The Housing Commission yesterday sent to the Building Ordinance Revision Commission a letter in which it makes the request that some provision be made in the revised building ordinances for a cheap masonry construction for one-story buildings used for living purposes. It also asks that provision be made for a minimum type of wooden habitation which can be used for habitation by the poorer classes.

The Housing Commission has as one of its aims the endeavor to encourage individual habitation instead of house courts, thereby tending to eliminate congestion in tenements; and it is eager in its desire to secure a better grade of habitation for the poor than are now provided in house courts.

Will Improve Cemetery.

The Council yesterday adopted the report of the Health and Sanitation Committee, instructing the Supply Committee to make provision for tools, a toolhouse, etc., for the purpose of making individual burials and general repair of the city cemetery at San Pedro. The City Attorney is also instructed to prepare an ordinance providing for the employment of a sexton for this cemetery and a plan for selling lots in the cemetery, so that the city may derive a revenue at least sufficient for upkeep of the place.

Undertakers' Zone Fight.

The ordinance is now in effect which created a new undertaking zone on the block on Washington street that directly fronts the main entrance to Rosedale cemetery. Undertakers who apply for permits for a location directly opposite the entrance are completing a building for this purpose, but a new movement in protest has been started. The subject was before the Health and Sanitation Committee of the City Council yesterday. The City Attorney is asked by the Board of Education to reconsider its action, as the board protests against an undertaking establishment in the proximity of the public school at Washington street and Exposition park. There is also a petition from property owners of the district, asking that the zone be vacated.

Object to Fertilizer Plant.

The old protest against the park department maintaining a fertilizer plant at Exposition park was before the Health and Sanitation Committee yesterday. William C. Durfee, a business man of the neighborhood, declares that he has been forced to leave his place of business three days a week because of the unbearable stench of the fertilizer, and others of the neighborhood are equally indignant. The park department avers that the product of the plant is equivalent to $15,000 a year for the city park supplies and wants to maintain its place.

Municipal Notes.

The Harbor Committee of the Council yesterday recommended that an ordinance be adopted empowering the Harbor Commission to regulate the sailing of vessels for vessels plying within the harbor.

Approval of the Harbor Committee of the City Council was given yesterday to a lease of city property at San Pedro for the Marine Mechanical Machine shops for fifteen years. For the first three years the concern is to pay the city a rental of $900 a year. At the end of the third year the city may readjust the rental rates and may relocate the concern if the land is needed for municipal purposes.

The protest of certain manufacturing concerns that the Board of Public Works and the Harbor Commission have discriminated against them in preparing the specifications for harbor construction materials, which have been before the Council in one form or another for many weeks, was finally put to sleep yesterday when the Harbor Committee of the Council recommended that all the communications on the subject be filed.

Because of the near use of the Mormon Island channel wharf there is need of proper lighting of the streets leading to the wharf. The Harbor Committee yesterday recommended that the City Electrician at once provide lights for Fries street, from Canal street to the wharf.

The subject of the confirmation of Ernest Pickering as a member of the Public Service Commission will be before the City Council today. The appointment was made two weeks ago, but the Council postponed action because of its time being taken up with the gas hearings, so that members have not found opportunity to investigate the Mayor's appointee.

Councilman Williams yesterday called for action on the proposed ordinance regulating billboards, which draft of this ordinance is now in the hands of the Public Welfare Committee, where it has been peacefully resting for some time.

The Public Works Committee of the Council decided yesterday to allow property owners on Western avenue, between Temple and Fountain streets, four weeks within which to erect new petition for the improvement of that street at a width of eighty feet, instead of at 100 feet, as has been petitioned for. More than $6 per cent of the street frontage was represented on a protest against the proposed widening to 100 feet.

The project of extending Alessandro street across the river to a connection with the main road, as to give a connection with Glendale and contiguous districts that would save a distance of two miles over the present route, was considered by the Public Works Committee yesterday, and the City Engineer was instructed to ascertain whether rights of way would be donated to the city for such an extension. Officials of Glendale have indicated that they would be willing to assist in securing this new route.

HAS ACUTE MEMORY.

If George A. Hulse did not completely forget Judge Monroe on his fine memory, he at least gave him mental credit for putting one over on him when he appeared before him yesterday on a failure-to-provide charge.

The court required Hulse to give a bond for $5 a week for the support of his children, it appearing that he was in default. Then the court remarked:

"It seems to me that you were here a year ago and I gave you $1.75 because you had no money. Instead of buying food for your children, you spent the money in drink."

HOLDS CITIZEN FULFILLED DUTY.

BELIEVED CRIME IMMINENT SO INFORMED POLICE.

Man Arrested Brings Suit for Damages but Fails to Recover, the Court Holding that He Did not Consider Informant Liable Under the Circumstances.

There is money in the junk business and by the same token there is honor for a citizen if he informs the police he has reason to believe that a crime is committed, although thereby an arrest is made of an innocent party.

These facts stand out strong in the suit brought by Louis Rosenthal against Henry Fisher for false arrest, for which he asked $10,000 damages. Rosenthal was arrested on suspicion by the police in connection with the theft of many miles of copper wire from the aqueduct and released after two hours' confinement. No complaint was issued against him. When it appeared that Fisher had informed the police, Rosenthal brought the action for damages. Judge Morrison, who tried the suit yesterday, gave judgment for Fisher. His comment was that he did not see how a citizen could be held liable for the arrest of a malefactor if he had told the police that Rosenthal was the guilty party.

The police had been making the investigation, upon the assumption that Rosenthal was the guilty party. The police had been making the investigation, upon the assumption that Rosenthal was the guilty party.

NO HEIRS FOUND.

COUNTY GETS ESTATE.

The estate of Jacob E. Peeler, the man who cornered the 5-cent piece market in San Francisco and won a handsome sum in prize money in the United Railroads, was turned over to the County Treasurer yesterday from Public Administrator Bryson because no heirs had appeared to claim it.

Peeler died March 1, 1913. A sale of Western property, which he owned brought $597,778. He also had $1300 cash in a Santa Monica bank, and $45 were found on his person. Bryson has been more than a year endeavoring to discover whether or not Peeler had relatives living, but without success.

He obtained an order from the Probate Court yesterday to turn the snug fortune into the County Treasury. If no heirs appear within five years, the money will escheat to the State for school purposes.

Peeler was a native of England and rare coins, gold dust and gold bars, and had an office at No. 501 Montgomery street, San Francisco, before the fire.

WILL APPEAR.

STATE TO TAKE ACTION.

Atty.-Gen. Webb filed in the Probate Court yesterday notice of appeal to the Supreme Court from the judgment of Judge Rusk, who appraised the estate of Ida Hancock Ross at $2,622,704.16. This was a reduction of nearly $4,900,000 from the appraisement which the State urged.

Under the court's appraisement the inheritance tax was $1,611,618.25, 26.59 and of this amount G. Allan Hancock, the chief beneficiary, will pay a tax of $159,354.90.

If the State succeeded in forcing the appraisement of $7,000,000, the estate would have had to pay an inheritance tax of $2,251,618.25.

PLEDGES WORD.

INDIAN TO RETURN.

James Youngdeer, the Indian nation picture man, who declared his city after his arrest for misconduct with Miss Mason and Miss Wilkerson, and later wrote Judge Taft of the Juvenile Court that he wanted the vengeance white men meted out to Indians, now states in a letter dated February 12, last, from an unknown address that he will keep his promise to return.

From enjoying the fruits of a prosperous profession, he now declares he is penniless and asserts he is innocent of the grave charge lodged against him. He is believed to be in New York, the letter reaching Judge Taft enclosed in an envelope mailed in Los Angeles.

"Though I am a picture man," he wrote Judge Taft, "my promise is still fresh in my mind, and by the help of the Great Mystery and all that is good, I intend to keep it. I was told that the bond was laid aside for one year. I wanted to try my luck, but everything was against me."

"For some reason I had over $4000 or $5000 worth of moving-picture film rejected on my way to the coast. I was working for. So when I got to New York, I was worse off than ever, and now I am broke."

"Not a penny to my name, and since I came away, I have lost everything I had—horrible, automobile that the lawyer took after I had paid him."

"My studio is gone, and I owe a whole lot of money. It will take me a long time to pay it, but I am coming back and then God will help me in my case. On the honor of my dead mother, I am not going to say anything to do with that Mason or that Wilkerson girl. I was trying to make some money, but my heart was too sad. I can't work. I can't have anything, so I will keep my promise and come back though I haven't a penny."

Judge Taft has faith in Youngdeer returning and standing trial. "When an Indian pledges his word," he said, "he keeps it."

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

CONTENTS EXTRAORDINARY. W. S. O'Brien, who was arrested in this city about two weeks ago on a charge of technical violation of the Arizona corporation law, will appear before Judge Willis a week from today on habeas corpus proceedings returnable on that date. O'Brien states that he would be glad to return to Arizona to fight the charge, but that business reasons make it imperative that he remain here for the present. Following his arrest, which was made late at night, he spent the time un-

WHY SHE LOST. The testimony in the damage suit of Octavia M. Smith against the Pacific Electric tried by Judge Works showed that she had been on both sides of the railway at Glendale when she was injured. The preponderance of the evidence was in favor of the east side, and judgment was given for the railway, Octavia testifying that she had been injured by a train on the west-bound track.

A Real Piano Sacrifice

I must sell out. I came here to take personal charge of the big Los Angeles Eilers Music House. But conditions beyond our control have arisen that make it necessary for us to quit altogether. I must immediately return to Oregon. I ought to be there now. I have offered this store, with fixtures, furniture, everything, including stock and good will, to several different music houses, but I couldn't find any man or set of men with capital enough to swing the deal.

I could send the pianos North, but if I did that I would have the expense of boxing and hauling them, besides freight and insuring them. And even after I got them North they still have to be sold. So I prefer to pocket my loss, and let the pianos as they stand, for what they'll bring, and give Los Angeles homes the benefit of the greatest drop in piano prices that has ever been offered here.

I'm putting pianos in hundreds of homes that had dreamed of being able to own such beautiful instruments. Not only that, but lodges, clubs, associations, have sent their representatives to us to get the benefit of these literally snatched figures.

Note Some of the Prices

The best made Player Pianos, ordinarily priced at $700. I'm selling for $320. For plain styles I'll take $265. $900 and $1000 fanciest Player pianos are reduced just the same as the less expensive instruments. Upright pianos, brand new and warranted makes are only $95, $115 and $135. Several Krantz & Bach, Ivers & Pond and other pianos tomorrow are only $55. Also numerous more elaborate styles at $120.

Any Instrument on Any Terms

The world's most beautiful instruments, including the famous Bush & Gerts, Decker, Haseltin, Kimball, Kimball-Armstrong, Smith & Barnes, Steger, the famous Bungalow Player Pianos, and also the best of all the fine ones, the player piano de luxe, and scores of other well known makes are here. And here I'm compelled to sell out for whatever price I can get.

You don't need to pay all cash. I'll take as little as $1.00 a week on any number of these pianos. You can take your choice from dozens of the most beautiful brand new Player Pianos for $15 a month. Almost any terms will buy a piano now.

Positive Savings

Tell me the price you wish to pay and I will give you a piano at that price. Tell me the terms you wish to make and I will let you have a piano on those terms. This is no time for argument. My necessity is great. And if you have any possible use for a piano or a player piano don't put off coming but call at once, make your selection immediately. No such opportunity as I am now presenting has ever before, or will ever again, come to Los Angeles.

A Word of Timely Warning

If a man offered me a fire-sale piano I would insist upon a guarantee on that instrument that would pass the closest scrutiny of my lawyers. Water is a piano's greatest enemy. Heat warps its woodwork and affects the temper of its strings. Steam is death to glue joints in casework, sound-boards and pin-blocks.

Remember, therefore, when you consider buying a piano that no matter what other stores may offer in the way of alleged inducements on new or damaged or slightly damaged instruments, this store, because of the great necessity for immediately closing, offers you the greatest possible inducements on brand new, fully-guaranteed pianos, backed not only by the manufacturer's warranty, but by the famous money-back Eilers guarantee. You're sure of an entirely satisfactory purchase here.

(BY A. F.)

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A new Federal reserve bank system will start business today with a total authorized capital of $100,000,000 for all reserve banks. This fact became apparent tonight when figures were made public from all national banks responding to the first call of the Comptroller of the Currency, made March 4.

The total capital and surplus of the 7484 national banks reported was given at about $1,78
